Terms of Engagement: wetland figure drafting

Danir Kantserov, architecture student at Politecnico di Milano; GIS/CAD drafting in QGIS
Milan, Italy · danirkantserov@gmail.com · Version 1.3, 11 October 2026

These terms come with every quote and apply unless we agree otherwise in writing. To accept, reply "I accept these terms, including sections 6 and 8".

1. Scope. I produce figures and GIS/CAD files from the data you supply (GNSS exports, data-form IDs, the survey-area boundary; for impact or permit sheets, the design and photos). Your scientist makes every wetland determination, reviews every figure before submittal and signs the report. I don't do fieldwork, land surveying or wetland determinations; sites in agricultural production are out of scope for now.

2. Price and delivery date. From $150 per figure set (the figures and files for one delineation report). Each job gets a fixed quote and delivery date before work starts, based on acreage, features, sheets and deliverables.

3. Free test. Send me one figure from a report you've already filed (a public one), and I'll redraw it in your format so you can compare. No charge, no obligation; I use the figure only for this test.

4. First job: you pay only if you use the maps. You use them if any map or file goes into a submittal, is delivered to your client or an agency, or becomes the base for your own figures. If you won't use them, tell me within 30 days of delivery; you owe nothing, and your data is deleted on request. One such job per firm.

5. Corrections. One correction round is included for mapping issues: the format, labels or numbers on the maps, not the field boundaries. I make the corrections within 3 business days of your request or by a date we agree if you ask in one of my deadline weeks (named in the quote), for requests made within 12 months of delivery. Other changes, including new data or scope, are new work.

6. Liability. My liability for a job is limited to the fee you paid for it. I'm not liable for indirect or consequential losses. I don't carry professional-liability insurance.

7. Confidentiality. Your data, project and client details are confidential and used only for your job. I'll sign your NDA if it allows the processing in section 8.

8. Data handling. I produce the figures with a scripted QGIS/Python pipeline that I run with an AI assistant, Anthropic's Claude, with model training turned off (the setting that lets Anthropic train on my data). Parts of your files pass through Anthropic's service, which runs on Anthropic's and its cloud providers' servers in the United States or other countries; Anthropic's standard retention of Claude Code data with training off is 30 days. Sessions its automated trust and safety systems flag as violating its usage policy are kept up to 2 years, and its privacy policy says conversations flagged for safety review are still used for model improvement. Apart from Anthropic and its cloud providers, no one else gets your files. I check every sheet against your data before delivery, and your scientist reviews and signs. If your contract, or your client's, forbids AI tools, third-party processors or work outside the United States, or requires you to report them (for example California state contracts or MnDOT work), tell me before you send anything: I will give you a written description of the tools and data flow, or decline the job. Your files stay on my computer and in the channel you send them through; I send deliverables through a private folder shared only with you. Please remove landowner names and other personal details. CNDDB data: only under your license, never in an AI tool, deleted when the work ends. Your data is deleted on request, otherwise at the end of the correction period. Either way, I keep the delivered PDFs and the job's paperwork for 10 years.

9. Ownership. On payment, you own the deliverables and all rights in them. They are white-label: your title block, your firm named as creator, my name only if you want it. Third-party data is the exception to both: it keeps its license and credit line. No portfolio use without your permission.

10. Payment. Invoice in USD, payable by bank transfer via Wise, or PayPal, as confirmed in the quote; due on delivery or, on the first job, on first use. Fees on your side are yours. I'm a non-US individual working in Italy; IRS Form W-8BEN on request.

11. Your own agreement. Prefer your own subconsultant agreement or purchase order? Send it and I'll review it.
